14. New Shared Use Pedestrian Footway/Cycleway, Cheriton Road and Earls Avenue, Folkestone

Report JTB/17/05 showed the results of the proposed shared use pedestrian footway/cycleway – Cheriton Road and Earls Avenue, Folkestone.

Damien Cock, Project Manager, presented the report to Members.

Members were concerned about shared use and the perceived risk to pedestrians with regard to cyclists using the same area. Mr Cock advised there are no priorities, in this respect it is important to consider if footways or roads can be widened to accommodate all.

There were comments raised by members with regard to visibility, congestion, parking and the overall safety of pedestrians and cyclists.

It was noted that any shared space needs proper signage to inform cyclists to consider pedestrians.

Although a full consultation has been carried out, members suggested that a series of site visits with Mr Cock are planned to look at the prioritising issues. It was agreed that members are best placed to look at the sites with Mr Cock bearing in mind their extensive local knowledge. This would, in no way delay the development, however would prove useful in looking more closely at shared space.
